2. [redacted] Comment. The shipments confirm the previous assumption that the army supply depot of the Third Shock Army was transferred from Magdeburg to Koenigsborn.

5. [redacted] Comment. [redacted] The actual number of outgoing shipments in October is believed to be about 340 carloads. This means that the volume in October is about 40 percent higher than that of September. This increase cannot be interpreted as, except for the supply depot of the supply depot of the Third Shock Army which had recently been transferred to Koenigsborn, the known depots were about equally supplied in September and October. Therefore it is believed that the raise is primarily due to an increase in the number of small consumers. Supply traffic is considered normal in spite of the increase in the number of shipments.
